RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Grants Committee recommend that Halifax Regional Council adopt Administrative Order 2024-002-ADM, the Anti-Black Racism Grants Administrative Order, as set out in Attachment 1 to this report.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The anti-Black racism grants program was developed to empower communities and citizens of African descent across the municipality to address issues of anti-Black racism. Specifically, focusing on community at a grassroots level to combat issues and impact change with initiatives that are led by community who live with these issues every single day.

BACKGROUND

Anti-Black racism is an everyday structural discrimination that Black people encounter all over the world. Anti-Black racism encompasses prejudice, discriminatory attitudes, negative beliefs, stereotyping and other forms of discrimination, overt or covert, directed at people of African ancestry all around the world. This form of racism is uniquely rooted in the particular history of Black people which is informed by the legacies of enslavement and colonization.

In 2021 Halifax Regional Municipality acknowledged its commitment to addressing anti-Black racism. A significant initiative that will be implemented is the establishment of community grants for activities that align with the municipality's commitment and support communities in addressing anti-Black racism. These projects are aimed to:

- create a greater awareness of Anti-Black racism and its impact,
- help create a greater understanding of anti-Black racism and the necessary action to address it,
- identify and/or bring awareness to the community organizations that are working to dismantle individual, systemic, and structural racism and,
- create projects that will work towards building a diverse, inclusive, and equitable Municipality.

Origin of the Anti-Black Racism Grants Program

A focus within the municipality's Anti-Black Racism (ABR) efforts is to build community capacity within African Nova Scotian communities across the municipality. In order to impact change in addressing issues of anti-Black racism it is necessary to involve community in this work.

The ABR Grants program will provide opportunities for community to identify issues along with solutions to these issues by applying an Afrocentric lens.

Ujima is the African principle that represents collective work and responsibility. This initiative is about capacity building within community. This program will work towards strengthening community and empowering community.

Program Development

The ABR Grant Program was developed as a result of community consultation where feedback was provided from community and stakeholders. Of the programs and services offered we wanted to ensure that we provided the resources for community at a grassroots level to address issues at a community level. Technical assistance was provided by Finance & Asset Management to avoid duplication or overlap with the Community Grants Program and to increase the scope of participation among African Nova Scotian and African descent communities through a designated grant program that reflects the priorities, capacities, and cultural values of this interest-based community.

DISCUSSION

The details of the grant program are outlined in Attachment 1 –Administrative Order 2024-002-ADM Respecting the Anti-Black Racism Grants Program. The funds for this program have already been assigned through the proposed operating budget for 2024/2025.
