

Joining Forces for HMCS Sackville: North West Community Council Partnership

Presented by the Canadian Naval Memorial Trust

October 6, 2025

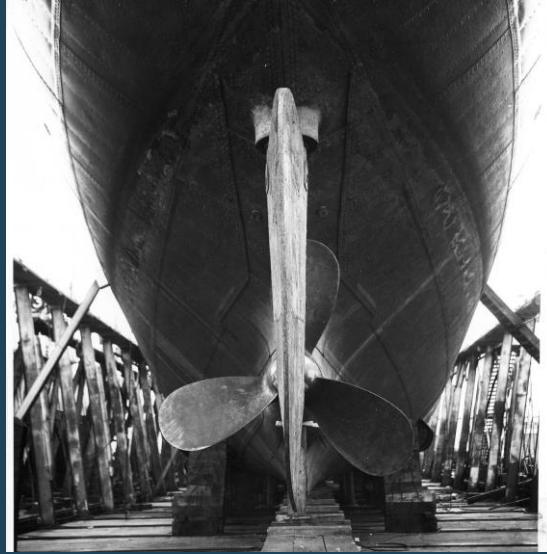

Canadian Naval Memorial Trust (CNMT)

- Volunteer-led national charity based in Halifax founded in 1982
- Stewards HMCS Sackville, last surviving WWII corvette. Commemorates 100,000+ Canadians who served in the Royal Canadian Navy and a living memorial to the 4,500 lost at sea
- HMCS SACKVILLE was designated as Canada's National Naval Memorial in 1984

Why Sackville Matters Locally

- Iconic Halifax waterfront site drawing up to 45,000 visitors annually
- Platform for commemoration, education, and cultural events engaging youth, veterans, and communities in shared remembrance
- Honouring military and naval history and Connects Halifax's WWII naval history to today's shipbuilding and port communities

Challenges and Opportunities

Challenges:

Hull replacement needed

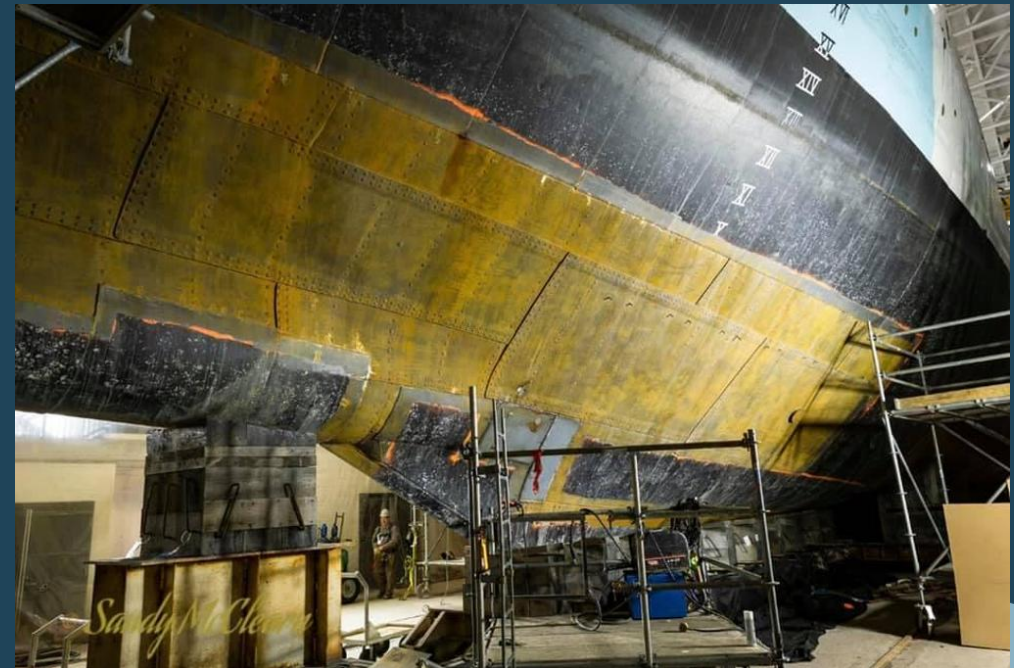

Opportunities:

Innovative fundraising strategies

Individual and foundational donors

Industrial & Technological Benefits (ITBs)

Grants.

Our Immediate Need

- Operational funding is needed as we prepare for our Capital Campaign
- Facing short-term operational challenges today:
 - Maintenance and preservation
 - Staffing and public programming
 - Ensuring ongoing public access

How Council Can Help

Support our Operational Costs

- We ask members from each district councillor to consider a $2,500 donation for this community treasure, or a collective donation. This will make a huge impact to our operations, and we would recognize the contribution and provide an honorary life membership to each seat in the Trust.

Other ways to support

- Partner in Commemorative Ceremonies
- Host receptions & cultural events onboard
- Sign Up for our Newsletter
