Commissioner O'Malley stepped down from the Chair and Commissioner Kent assumed the Chair.

Commissioner O'Malley proposed that the motion be amended after "May 29, 2025" to add:

"with the following changes to the policy:

1. Include this definition for Critical Incident Commander (CIC) in section 4:

Critical Incident Commander (CIC) means an HRP sworn officer who has successfully completed the Canadian Police College's Critical Incident Commanders Level II course and maintains valid accreditation. The CIC's role is to command, assess, coordinate, and manage critical incident program resources in response to a Critical Incident.

2. Change section 6.4 to read as follows:

The chief officer shall ensure that the operational deployment of the ARV requires the approval and on scene oversight of a qualified Critical Incident Commander. Any request for deployment shall be recorded and include the date, time, location, and reason for the deployment.

3. Include new section 6.13 to read as follows:

The Chief Officer will make available a copy of the Chief's relevant policy document to the Chair, as well as any updates or revisions to that policy, as they become officially released or issued."

As provided for in section 50 (2) of Administrative Policy One, Respecting the Procedures of the Board of Police Commissioners, the amendment was accepted as friendly.

The motion now read:
